In June 2022 the UK and Commonwealth countries will be celebrating the Queen's Platinum Jubilee. This commemorates the 70th anniversary of the Queen's accession to the throne in 1952, making her the longest-reigning monarch in British history.

An extended bank holiday, from Thursday 2 to Sunday 5 June, will provide an opportunity for communities and people throughout the United Kingdom to come together to celebrate the historic milestone.

There will be many Street Parties to commemorate this. Consisting of BBQ's, Bunting, and party hats!

Party Tips!

Decorations

A street party wouldn't be complete without bunting. Traditionally this would be a string of Union Jack flags or triangles coloured red, white and blue.

Tip: If you don't already have a stash of bunting, you can make your own bunting from fabric. Or if sewing isn't your thing, try making bunting from felt triangles, rag-tie or ribbons.

TIP: Borrow rather than buy - borrowing can be better for your wallet but more important a benefit to the planet.

Netted pom-poms make a great reusable alternative to balloons. Fun and colourful, they are really durable meaning they can be used again and again long after the Jubilee. Unlike balloons, netted pom-poms are less likely to escape and end up as litter endangering wildlife.

Paper chains are an easy-to-make eco-friendly decoration. Use strips of scrap paper, pages from magazines, or old greetings cards.

The team running The Big Jubilee Lunch have suggested a great idea for decorating your own street party tablecloth. Use an old tablecloth, bedding sheet or even the back of unwanted wallpaper rolls and get creative with fabric pens, markers or paint. This makes for a great community activity either before or during the event.

We hope you have a great Bank Holiday Weekend!
